

CHAPPELL LOFTS
CAMDEN

A selection of luxury loft-style apartments in a converted piano factory with stunning interior spaces and access to a resident's VIP Club Lounge with pool.

These unique properties are located in the new Chappell Lofts development, a former Victorian piano factory whose clients included Beethoven and Strauss, now restored and tastefully converted into ten stunning loft-style apartments.

Built in 1866, the factory made 18 pianos a week by 1890. The building produced munitions during the First World War, but after 1945 struggled to compete with pianos made in the Far East. The site closed in 1970 shortly after a take over by Phillips Electrical.

Inspired by the building's past, the authentic interior evokes Victorian grandeur whilst including luxurious appointments, high-specification open plan industrial kitchens by the Italian brand Scavolini, parquet flooring and exposed brickwork bring this 19th century site into the modern era.

This striking architecture, influenced by piano keys and strings, continues through the communal areas, with the dramatic foyer clad in brass concertina-design metalwork like the original 1920's doors.

Belmont Street, in the heart of Chalk Farm and Camden, is ideally situated for the famous Stables Market, local shops, bars, restaurants and transport links.
