

Tite Street, SW3

£1,450,000

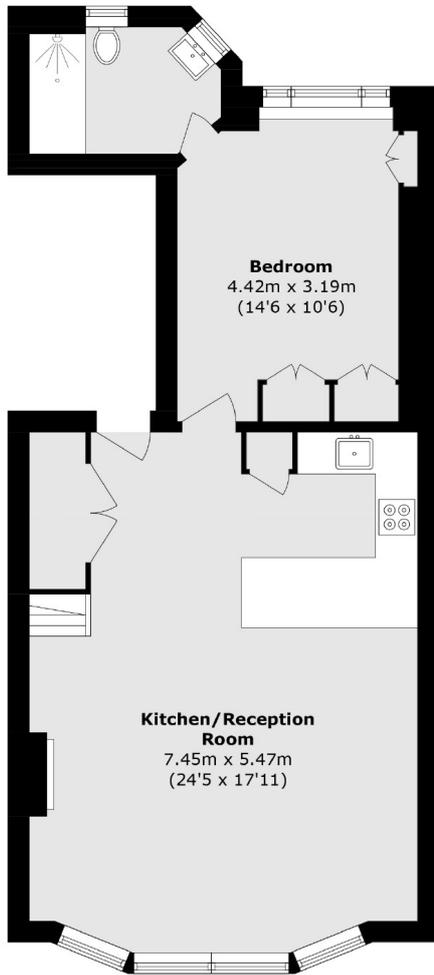

An extraordinary property with four metre high ceilings, bespoke finishes and a separate study area. This former artist's studio has been beautifully redesigned by the current owner to create a truly unique apartment.

Tite Street was home to Oscar Wilde from 1844 to 1895. Sloane Square, Burton Court and Duke of York Square are all within easy walking distance.

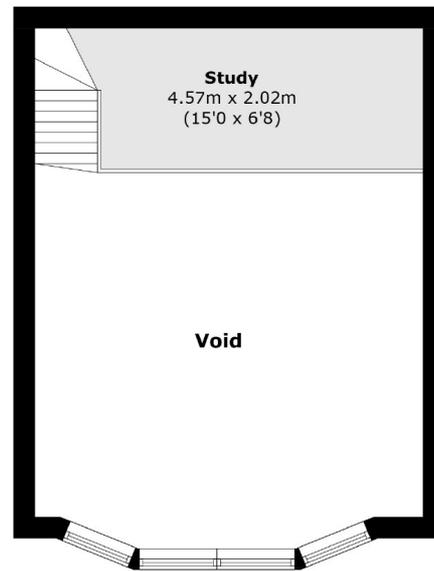

Features

- First Floor
- Separate Study Area
- High Ceilings
- Bespoke Finishes
- Beautifully Refurbished
- One Bedroom

Tite Street, London, SW3

First Floor

Mezzanine

Total area (approx.): 71.4 sq. m (768.5 sq. ft)
(Excluding void)