This elegant ground-floor period conversion exemplifies sophisticated living, combining timeless character with meticulous and highly functional design. The accommodation is thoughtfully arranged to include a generous reception room with an internal bay, seamlessly opening into a wonderfully bright sun room.

A separate kitchen is well appointed with a range of integrated appliances alongside sleek wall and base units. The property further benefits from two well-proportioned double bedrooms and two stylish bathrooms. To the rear lies a charming and secluded south-west facing landscaped garden, offering a tranquil retreat and an ideal setting for al fresco dining and entertaining.

Caldervale Road is a sought-after, quiet, tree-lined residential street nestled in the Abbeville Village, an area celebrated for its charming boutique shops, vibrant bars, and acclaimed restaurants. The green open spaces of Clapham Common, along with two Northern Line Stations are just around the corner.
